SUPREME COURT GIVES DECISION APPROVING ACTS

Statute Granting Cash Reward to Former Service Men and the One Providing for Education, Are Given Tribunal's O. K.

MEANS A BIG OUTLAY

Cost to State of Carrying Out Law Will Run Into Millions of Dollars

Madison, November 17.—The Wisconsin supreme court today held constitutional the two soldier-bonus laws, one paying $10 to each Wisconsin world war service man for each month in the service, the other paying $30 a month to each service man who wishes to attend any school, college or university in the state not conducted for profit.

The carrying out of the laws means an expenditure by the state of $25,000,000, which will be raised by a general property tax and a surtax on incomes.

The acting on the constitutionality of the law was a friendly one, designed to make certain the validity of the laws before the benefits were paid.

WILSON SET AGAINST ALL TREATY CHANGES

President Declares Defeat for Ratification Resolution Containing the Lodge Reservations

Washington, November 17.—President Wilson today decreed defeat for the resolution of peace treaty ratification containing the Lodge reservations. This was the outcome of a conference the president had with Senator Hitchcock, administration leader, this morning, according to Hitchcock.

"The president declared," Hitchcock said, "he will pocket the peace treaty if it is ratified with the Lodge reservation. This means he will refuse to accept it."

"The president is much better and he is full of fight," declared Secretary Tumulty today. After the president's conference with Senator Hitchcock, he rode in the White House grounds in his wheel chair, the first time he has left the executive mansion since early in October.

PLAN LEGISLATION TO CHECK RADICALS

Congress to Pass New Laws to Protect Nation From Reds Following Report of Attorney General

Washington, November 17.—Action on Attorney General Palmer's request for additional legislation to fight the radical disturbers will be taken at the regular session of congress next month, house leaders said today. Such measures will be first in order at the next session, opening December 1. Leaders realize the seriousness of the situation, but are inclined to blame Palmer for not having called the attention of the country to the wide activities of the radicals earlier.

BUYS IMPORTED STOCK

Three Pure Bred Guernseys Purchased at Duluth for Gordondale Farm at Nelsonville

LeRoy W. Gordon of Nelsonville was at Duluth last Friday, when he purchased three purebred, imported Guernsey heifers, which will be added to the herd at Gordondale farm, owned by his father, L. E. Gordon, Jr., at Nelsonville.

The animals were a year old last fall and were among those included in a consignment auction sale held at Jean Duluth farm at Duluth. They will be shipped to Nelsonville this week.

The Guernsey herd at Gordondale farm, in addition to the three heifers just purchased, is made up of 25 females and four bulls, all pure breeds. Mr. Gordon is just completing a modern barn, 38x120 feet in size, which will be equipped with all the latest barn devices.

VETERAN MERCHANT CLOSING BUSINESS

C. A. Hamacker Retires on Saturday from a Business Career Extending Over a Period of Over 39 Years

Charles A. Hamacker, veteran Stevens Point merchant, has retired from business. His establishment at 305 Main street was closed to the public on Saturday. The stock had been gradually reduced for the past several months and two weeks ago everything had been disposed of with the exception of the fixtures. The closing out was unannounced to the general public, although friends of Mr. Hamacker knew that he was planning to close his business career. The entire stock of groceries has been sold through general retail sales. The Hamacker family will continue to make Stevens Point its home.

A Pioneer Grocer

Mr. Hamacker has been one of Stevens Point's leading merchants for 39 consecutive years. He opened a general store in the building at 305 Main street on August 20, 1880, and has occupied the same building continuously since that time with the exception of a few months. The block in which the building is located was burned on March 25, 1885. The fire destroyed all the property within the block with the exception of the building at 319 Main street, which is occupied by the I. S. Hill store. From March 25, 1885, until the following November, Mr. Hamacker was located temporarily in a part of the Kronish building at the intersection of First and Main streets, returning to occupy the present building at the old location in November, 1885.

Mr. Hamacker carried both grocery and dry goods stocks for many years, closing out the dry goods section of his establishment one and one-half years ago. Since then he carried only a line of groceries.

Had Large Patronage
During his long business career Mr. Hamacker enjoyed a wide patronage and he wishes to thank his many patrons at this time, especially those who are listed among his oldest customers. Scores of families have been continuous patrons of Mr. Hamacker for 20 or more years.

The store building which has been the home of the Hamacker store for so many years has been rented to Otto F. Meyer of Rosholt, who intends to open a drug store there within the next several weeks.

HIGHS SCORE ANOTHER WIN

Marshfield Football Players Prove no Match for Coach Paul Vincent's Seasoned Eleven

THE FINAL SCORE IS 41 TO 13

Losers Stage Come-back in Final Period and Put Over Two Touchdowns

Outplayed from the very start and throughout the entire game, the Marshfield High school football team suffered defeat before the local High school eleven, by a score of 41 to 13, at the fair grounds in this city Saturday afternoon.

Oster of Stevens Point boosted the pigskin to the visiting eleven to start the game, and after a few minutes of play it became an easy matter to determine the victors. On the first three downs that Marshfield held the ball no gains were made and the visitors were forced to kick. For several downs no gains were made by either side. The first gain of any importance was realized when Oster passed to Marx, which netted 15 yards for the local athletes. An on-side kick was then attempted by the Stevens Pointers, which was blocked but recovered with no gain. On the next play Oster kicked to the 10-yard line. Marshfield returned the punt and the ball was again in local hands.

Register Long Gains

On the second play Oster went around left end for 30 yards. Marx gained another 30 yards around right end, which brought Stevens Point within 15 yards of the goal. The following plays brought consecutive gains until Oster plunged for five yards, pushing the pigskin over for a touchdown. Goal was kicked and the score stood seven to nothing for a few minutes.

Stevens Point again kicked to Marshfield but the visitors were unable to gain and were forced to punt. After a few downs the Pointers kicked goal, driving the ball to their 30-yard line. At this point the visitors fumbled the ball. On the next few downs Stevens Point lost ground after which Oster cut loose again around left end and carried the ball for 40 yards, scoring another touchdown for Stevens Point. Goal was not kicked, making the score 13 to 0.

Another touchdown was recorded for the Point in the next few minutes of play. Marx made a gain of 40 yards around right end and on the next play Oster ran for 30 yards around left end, carrying the ball over the goal line. The goal was kicked and the score was then 20 to 0. The game continued with this score until the close of the first half.

One-sided Contest

The third quarter was an eventful period in the game for the local athletes, who registered three touchdowns which were made so easily that the contest became somewhat humorous. At the beginning of the second half the ball was again kicked to the visitors, who were unable to make any material gains and the oval soon fell into the hands of the Pointers. A lateral pass was then manipulated in which Vaughn passed to Oster, who made a gain of 30 yards. On the next play a delayed pass was effected. Oster received the ball from center, passed it to Fred Vaughn, who passed it to Hassel Vaughn and the pigskin was again carried over for a touchdown. The goal kick proved a good one and the score became 27 to 0.

The next touchdown was realized in the next few minutes of play. Vaughn passed to Marx, who made a gain of 20 yards, after which a forward pass was thrown to Wilson, who carried it over the goal line. With the goal kick the score stood 34 to 0.

Play Outlets Enemy
A run of 80 yards featured the next touchdown for the local eleven. This was realized through a delayed pass. Oster passed the ball to Fred Vaughn and the latter threw it directly over the line of scrimmage to Hassel Vaughn, who cleverly outgeneraled the visitors and succeeded in running almost the full length of the field, carrying the ball over for the sixth touchdown.

Losers Stage Come-back

Strengthened with courage from some unknown source, the visitors proceeded in the fourth quarter to penetrate the local line, which by then was composed entirely of substitute players. Considerable gains were made by the visitors, which brought them to within 30 yards of their goal. They were then penalized 15 yards for holding, but on the next play realized 30 yards on a forward pass which again brought them to within 15 yards of their goal. The local aggregation was then penalized five yards for being off-side, bringing Marshfield five yards nearer the goal. On the next play Marshfield pushed it over for a touch-

NO TRAFFIC PROBLEM?

Count Made on Vehicles on City Streets Gives Interesting Figures

That Stevens Point has its own traffic problem, even on average days, is evidenced by a count made on automobiles and other vehicles Saturday. The count was made between the hours of 9 a. m. and 4 p. m. Saturday and showed the following:

That 776 automobiles passed, in one direction or another, at the corner of Ellis street and Strong's avenue.

That 744 automobiles passed the intersections of Clark street and Strong's avenue.

This is an average of one car every 36 to 40 seconds.

In addition to the automobiles, 244 other vehicles passed one of the corners during the same period.

MURDER TRIAL BEGINS

Raleigh Ives of Fond du Lac Answers for Second Time to Charge of Murder

West Bend, Wis., November 17.—The second murder trial of Raleigh Ives of Fond du Lac, charged with killing Herbert P. Locher, was to start here today after a number of postponements.

At the first trial in Fond du Lac last May, the jury disagreed. Later a writ of prejudice was filed and the trial transferred to Green Lake county and finally to Washington county, where postponements followed. Ives has been at liberty on $30,000 bail.

The defense at the first trial claimed justification because of the alleged close associations of Locher and Mrs. Ives. Both the Ives and the Lochers have been prominent in Fond du Lac social life.

District Attorneys James Murray and H. E. Sweet represent the prosecution. R. H. Morse, Fond du Lac, and John F. Kluwin and P. H. Martin, Green Bay, represent the defense.

WOMAN NOW MANAGER OF A. C. A. BRANCH

Mrs. Olive M. Parsons has been named manager of the Plainfield branch of the American Co-operative association and is the first woman who has ever occupied that position at any of the association's branches. She succeeds H. E. Plummer, who has gone to Cranston. Mrs. Parsons was formerly bookkeeper for the association at Plainfield.

down and also kicked goal, making the score 41 to 7.

The ball was then kicked off to Stevens Point. On the second down Oster made a gain of 25 yards around right end. No gains were made on the next three plays, Stevens Point punting on the fourth down.

Score on Fluke

The second and last touchdown for Marshfield was made after Empire Watson's whistle had been blown for the purpose of penalizing Stevens Point five yards for being off side. As the play was in motion when the whistle was blown, it was allowed to be completed. The local players stopped, however, and did not realize the significance of their actions until a Marshfield man was well down the field with the ball. Even he was puzzled and after running many yards, dropped back to a walk, springing up again when a number of the local men realized that if he crossed the goal line it would mean a touchdown for Marshfield. The player carrying the ball succeeded in crossing the line ahead of his pursuers, running in at a distance of 65 yards. Marshfield was given the choice of the five-yard penalty or the gain their player had made on the play. The gain was taken as it gave the visitors the touchdown. The goal was kicked and the score which proved to be final, was then established. It was nearly dark before the game finally came to a close.

Neither Longhurst nor Holman played during the game, the former being kept out on account of his health and the latter because of having been declared ineligible. Stevens Point plays Madison High at Madison next Saturday.

Local Line-up

The line-up in Saturday's game was Razner, re; Hale, rt; Bright, rg; Wilson, rg; Somers, lg; Cote, lt; Thompson and Finch, le; Vaughn, q; Fred Vaughn, lb; Oster, fb; Marx, qb; Red-cren, Prof. R. W. Fairchild; umpire, C. F. Watson; head linesman, H. S. Dyer, Stevens Point.

Notice to Readers Whose Paid-Up Period Has Expired

Notice has been given in the Journal-Gazette, also directly by mail, to persons whose subscriptions have expired. Hundreds have renewed their subscriptions. Some have not yet been heard from.

Those who have received such notices, and whose subscriptions will run a few weeks longer, will have until the date of expiration to renew and remit for the same. Those whose paid-up period has expired must pay at once unless they wish their names taken from the list.

A non-paying subscriber cannot be carried for two reasons:

One, the post-office department does not allow it.

Two, no publisher can afford it. The Journal-Gazette is issuing two papers a week for the price of one, and it can maintain that rate in these days of high publication costs and the especially high price of print paper, only by keeping the list closely collected. It is believed to be fairer to the subscriber to sell the papers for $2 a year, and require everybody to pay, than to permit a partly paid up list to exist with the result that the price would have to be advanced to those who do pay.

Further notices are being mailed to subscribers whose paid-up period has expired. Unless they are heard from with remittance within two weeks after mailing this notice, the Journal-Gazette will have no option except to cut their names from the list.

SHIPMENT OF SPUDS BREAKS ALL RECORDS

October Was Biggest Month in History for Potato Buyers of Amherst, 170 Carloads of Tubers Going Out

Amherst Advocate: October was the banner month for shipments of potatoes from the local station in its entire history. During this month one hundred and seventy cars were shipped to southern and eastern markets according to Agent Cramer's reports, and had it been possible to secure all the cars the buyers could use, the shipments during that month would have been considerably more.

As each car was loaded with about 650 bushels it means that during that month over 110,000 bushels of potatoes were shipped from Amherst. During the month the price probably averaged about one dollar a bushel, so it is plain to be seen the potato industry in this vicinity is bringing much ready cash into the pockets of the growers.

Only a small part of the local crop has been hauled to market so far. The price is now in the neighborhood of $2.25 per hundred, and when the roads become in good condition again the potato growers will no doubt keep the buyers busy.

OUTAGAMIE COUNTY STRONG FOR COLLEGE CAMPAIGN

Appleton and Outagamie county have opened auspiciously the fund raising campaign for the Wisconsin College Associated and prospects are that they will go over the top with little difficulty.

Gifts aggregating $75,000 toward the $150,000 which Outagamie county is to raise were announced by Dr. Samuel Plantz, president of Lawrence college, when the campaign opened. Names of the donors were not announced, but it was learned that a donation of $50,000 on condition that the county raise $100,000 was offered by Jackson G. Rosebush, president of the Patton Paper company and formerly a professor in Lawrence college. The offer provides that Mr. Rosebush will give one dollar for every two dollars raised in the county. The $25,000 donation is understood to have been made by a group of paper mill men. It was also reported that an additional $10,000 has been promised by a resident of Kaukauna.

DEMAND THAT MEXICO RELEASE U. S. AGENT

Washington, November 17.—The government has made urgent representations to Mexico for the immediate release of William O. Jenkins, American consular agent at Puebla, who was arrested by Mexican authorities, the state department announced today. It is alleged that Jenkins conspired with the Mexican bandits to split the reward demanded for his release. The state department understands these charges are baseless.

BREEDERS WANT COUNTY AGENT

Guernsey Association Members Pledge $5 Each Toward Fund Being Raised by First National Bank

ANNUAL MEETING SATURDAY

Treasury of Organization is Depleted to Give Support to Junior Calf Club

Every member of the Portage County Guernsey Breeders' association who attended the annual meeting held in Stevens Point on Saturday went on record favoring the plan to engage the services of a county agent for Portage county. Each member pledged to give $5 toward the First National bank fund which is being raised to pay the salary of the agent.

Further support to the county agent plan was given in the passage of a motion to hire a man for two or three weeks during the summer for the purpose of organizing and promoting Guernsey interests in Portage county. This action was taken in view of the fact that the county is without an agricultural agent. The expenses of the man hired for the period of several weeks will be paid by the Guernsey Breeders' association.

Back Junior Club

The association voted the sum of $10 for the state livestock board and then contributed the entire balance from the treasury for the past year to the Junior Calf club of Portage county to help defray its expenses. The balance is $36 and the retiring treasurer was authorized to draw a voucher for the entire amount and tender it to the calf club. The action shown the hearty endorsement the Guernsey breeders are giving to the plan to promote raising of better stock among the young people.

Plan Guernsey Sale

The association further voted to hold a sale of pure-bred Guernsey cattle for Portage county in connection with the annual picnic of its members which is to be held at Nelsonville next summer. The definite date for the picnic is to be decided at a later time.

Officers Elected

L. E. Gordon, Jr., of Nelsonville was re-elected president of the association and C. W. Drake of Buena Vista re-elected vice-president. R. K. McDonald was chosen to the office of secretary and treasurer, succeeding Arthur Peterson of New Hope.

The president appointed G. E. Erickson of Rosholt and George E. Larson of Amherst, executive members of the association's executive board, and E. L. Lempen of New Hope, G. W. Andrae of Stevens Point and Bernard Waller of Nelsonville were appointed members of the auditing committee for the coming year.

25 In Attendance

The annual meeting was attended by 25 members from many parts of the county, although many of the men were from New Hope and Amherst. The association convened in the offices of R. K. McDonald on Clark street and at noon a luncheon was extended to a number of Stevens Point business men, who met with the Guernsey breeders at noon. A discussion followed the meal after which the association members returned to the McDonald building for their afternoon session.

Reserving Our Rights Under Article Ten

"The United States assumes no obligation to preserve the territorial integrity or political independence of any other country."

This is the beginning of the text of the reservation resolution adopted in the United States senate. The reservation resolution provides further that, when claim is made on the United States under this section, this country, having first determined whether or not it has any responsibility, will decide whether or not the army and navy are to be employed.

Article 10 in the League of Nations covenant of the peace treaty binds each nation to preserve the territorial limits of each other against external aggression. It means that rebels within a country shall never have any help from the outside. It binds the United States, should there be a rebellion in Ireland, for example, to prevent by force of arms any other nation giving any assistance to the Irish in their fight for independence. It made the dream of Irish independence an impossibility. Had it been adopted five years ago, it would have prevented a free Poland, a free Rumania, a free Yugoslavia and the restoration of Alsace-Lorraine.

The United States senate, while not wholly repudiating that section which will have a value in ending such enterprises as a possible German ambition to recover Alsace-Lorraine, retains in the hands of this country the right to decide what its responsibility is under the rule and how it shall go about the performance of such duty as it holds itself to have. No foreign country can call on us as an obligation to help it crush aspiring peoples within its legal borders.

The reservation is so wise that there should have been no opposition to it. It received the votes of all the republicans and four democrats. Were it not that they feared to offend President Wilson it doubtless would have had the support of many other democrats.

Confirming a Principle

The United Mine Workers have surrendered to the United States government. Like Emperor William, they held this great country in contempt and rashly went to war upon it. Like the Kaiser also, they were convinced later of the error of their ways. Fortunately for them they learned their lesson early.

The coal miners' strike was a deliberate attempt to bully the United States into compliance with the miners' demands. It failed because the country is bigger than the miners' union. As soon as President Wilson took a firm stand, the result was inevitable. Eleven great states joined in conspiracy against the nation in 1861, and it took a sea of blood to overcome them. The miners must have failed too had they gone on. Happily for them and the country they knew when to quit. It will take some time, it is true, to procure acceptance of the result in all mining districts. In places where the proportion of ignorant men is the greatest, the truth will be the longest in coming home. But there is not one chance in a thousand for a coal strike without leadership or money or nation-wide strength, to succeed. In spite of trouble in places, even covering several states, the real coal strike is now over. The rest is only the natural aftermath.

The miners' union surrenders gracefully. The leaders say they do not wish to be classed as enemies to the country, and in so saying, they admit that a continuation of the policy in which they had embarked would have classed them. Practically they may have won by yielding. While they were determined to make the people suffer, the poor most of all, for it is the poor who have not their winter's supply of coal in their cellars, the country was ready to fight it out with them. Now that they are willing to stop fighting and throw themselves on the consideration of the country, the country will see that they get a square deal. Whatever is reasonable in their program should be granted them. Every good citizen wants the miners to be well paid and well treated. It wants them above all to have a chance to become educated and Americanized.

So far as the Journal-Gazette is concerned, it is not anxious to haul the story over the coal miners as a setback to organizer labor. It believes a organized labor when it is right, and is dead against it when it is wrong. Being human beings, like the rest of us, union members make mistakes, and in such cases it is no friend of them who maintains that what is wrong is right. In our opinion the great point established, or confirmed rather for it is a point which has been up before, is that the nation is greater than any part of itself. We have just proven that principle against the miners, and we are ready with enthusiasm to apply it against the coal operators even though it becomes necessary to take away the mines and operate them or the public good.

The County Highway System

No question is settled until settled again. The road question in Portage county cannot be settled until the roads have been built. It cannot be disposed of by turning down the concrete-road proposition, the bonding proposition or any other which may come up. Any solution which leaves without roads keeps the question of good roads alive. And all the agitation and discussion help. The more we talk about it, the more may we get that we will get some roads in the end.

The special meeting of the county board and the public highway meeting a October make it clear that public opinion at this time is not in favor of bonding the county for a concrete road system. The debate, brought at that there are many who favor other kinds of roads; in fact nobody doubted that he wants poor roads. Therefore, taking advantage of the experience gained and the sentiment around, the county highway committee has come forward with a new plan. Briefly, it provides for 25 miles of concrete and 267 miles of gravel. It gives every town roads equal to the amount of money it pays in bonds.

Concerns the roads in a county system and it is arranged primarily for the benefit of the people of the county. It intends almost every mile in the county.

The plan provides for a bond issue, bonds are preferred for two reasons, one is that the vote will be available as fast as wanted, the other is that when a county plan to be financed by bonds, is voted, no change can be made in it, and no town need be afraid that after other towns have had their bonds built the program can be stopped and some districts lose out.

The county board will go over the votes at this session and it may make some changes. As soon as the plan has been worked out in full by the board, the Journal-Gazette will publish a map of the proposed routes and will endeavor to get it before all the people of the county. A list of the roads just published shows where the routes as now proposed will be. There will be few, if any, changes. We believe that if we can get this system of roads in a reasonable time, it will add greatly to the wealth and comfort of Portage county.

Paying with Bonds

Nobody should be started by a proposal to issue bonds for roads or any other public project. It is simply making use of the public credit because it is more convenient to pay that way than immediately in cash. Business men do the same thing, often prefer in making an investment to borrow instead of selling other property to obtain money. The merchant makes money by borrowing from the banks to pay for his stock. The farmer uses his credit often and pays when he markets his crop.

A misunderstanding of bonds arises out of the old argument that "it makes posterity pay." Posterity did pay for the railroad bonds issued in this county. It paid for two generations. But it was a good investment. Where would Stevens Point and Portage county be without railroads? The railroads repaid the county many times over when we consider the bad system under which they were issued. Nowadays bonds are not issued that way. A delegate to the good roads meeting at the court house asked how long it would take to pay off the $1,500,000 of highway bonds if it took 40 years to pay off $200,000 railway bonds. There was a cheer as the crowd got the suggestion that on the same basis it would take about 300 years to pay off this new bond issue. Yet if the person who asked the question had listened to the reading of the resolution he would have learned that the county was to begin paying the highway bonds in five years and would pay them all off in 20 years. The modern form of bond is a serial bond. The first payments are made sometimes only a year after the bonds are issued. In the case of the highway bonds, they can be made payable in 10 yearly installments beginning a year from date of issue, if that is considered desirable. In fact they can be brought almost down to a pay as you go basis. Some of the highway bonds can be paid off before the whole issue is out. The modern bond is wholly different from the antiquated railway bonds; it does not make the next generation pay, but instead begins collecting almost at once. The form of the bond can be made as desirable and the interest reduced as much as is practicable.

Don't be afraid of the bond bugaboo. The county's credit is one of its most valuable assets, one it ought to use when it is profitable to use it.

Some Good Roads Illustrations

Spreading at the Library dinner Thursday evening, F. B. Dent, chairman of the town of Belmont, said that he estimated a good road to market would save him personally $350 a year.

On the same occasion, W. E. Collins, president of the County Bankers' association, quoted the case of Clair Eekles, of the town of Buena Vista. Mr. Eekles lives three-quarters of a mile from that piece of the Pleasant Valley road which was improved the past summer. A few days ago, after getting in touch with the several markers, he learned that Plover was paying the best price for potatoes that day. He put 100 bushels, a heavy load, on his wagon. It required two teams to haul it out to the improved road three-fourths of a mile. Then he sent one team back and with one team hauled his load six miles to the market at Plover. With a poor road he would have had to use both teams all the way.

D. H. Parks, chairman of the town of Plover, has a good farm near Meenah. Mr. Parks estimates that his share of the $1,500,000 needed to build the 300 miles of the county highway system would be $175. It would amount to placing a mortgage of $175 on his farm. "Just to get a good road out to Plover would be worth that much to me, not to mention the 260 other miles of road all over the county," he told the Journal-Gazette when he dropped into this office the other day.

Ben Halverson, chairman of the county highway committee, estimates that gravel roads 15 feet wide can be built for $5,000 a mile under present labor and material costs. The three miles of new gravel road from Moore barn to Keene are worth on that basis $15,000. Interest on that sum at five per cent would be $750. We would like to have one farmer who uses that road come forward and say that the Moore barn-Keene road in its present condition, compared with the old stone sand highway over which travelers ground up to two years ago, is not worth to the public making use of that road $750 each and every year.

Propaganda

Propaganda is the science or art of influencing public opinion in favor of or against an institution, a brand of soap, a school of art, a dynasty, a nation, a political candidate, a maker of steel pens or anything else which engages the propagandist's energy. It is carried on by means of publicity obtained through motion pictures, letters to the editor, pamphlets, lectures, interviews, extracts from state papers and formal addresses by dignitaries in and out of office, catchwords passed about in the crowd and everything else which may appeal to the senses of those who are to be influenced.

A few years ago we heard little of propaganda and much of press agenting. The thing is the same, but when governments and statesmen engage in it the word more recently popular is considered of greater dignity. A propagandist is like a press agent in that he seeks to "put his client over." Both differ from the advertising agent in that their principal effort is to have the matter they seek to get before the public appear as news or independent expression of thought. A propagandist will resort to paid advertising if he must, but he prefers pure reading matter. An advertising agent won't scorn free reading notices, but his real pride is in the attractive notices he prepares and buys space to display.

Propagandists use up a great deal of white paper which might be put to better purposes. They control the reports of the successes and failures of their efforts, and consequently the popular repute of propaganda for efficiency does not suffer from understatement. Propagandists all declare themselves to be disinterested, but few of them have been known to refuse salaries.

Some scoffers hold that most of the propaganda carried forward even under respectable and responsible patronage should be described by a shorter word. That word is bunk.—New York Sun.

—Tom J. Coan, south side policeman, is a man who has a real conception of an officer's duty. "I don't believe in this Sunday closing and if it were left to me I wouldn't do it," he said, "but when an officer gets an order, it is his duty to enforce it without fear or favor." And that's what Coan did on the south side.

HIGH COST OF LIVING HITS AMATEUR SPORTS

Amateur Athletic Union, Meeting in Boston, May Raise Authorized Expense Account.

No work, November 17—Even the amateur athletes have been hit by the high cost of living.

A star performer can't live any more on five dollars a day. To insure three "square meals" a day, parlor accommodations and good hotels for the traveling stars, Justice Bartow S. Weeks, head of the legislation committee of the Amateur Athletic Union, wants traveling expenses raised to seven dollars a day.

This is one of the changes in the constitution that will be proposed by the legislation committee at the annual meeting of the union in Boston today.

Unless the traveler is a girl under 21 years of age who needs a chaperon, the expense account cannot include fees for trainers, rubbers, massage experts, neither can the traveler bring along a friend or relative at the expense of the club, according to the substitute clause proposed.

ENJOIN OWNERS OF WATER POWER

Judge B. B. Park Grants Temporary Injunction Restraining Companies From Flooding Lands in Hull

NEW CORPORATION IS FORMED

Condemnation Proceedings Likely to be Started by New Public Service Concern

A temporary injunction restraining the Consolidated Water Power & Paper company and the Jackson Milling company from maintaining a head of water at the local Wisconsin river dam at a height greater than the 10-foot six-inch level on the water gauge at the old dam has been granted by Judge B. B. Park.

Hearing Is Held

The order was issued following a hearing held Saturday on the cases instituted against the two companies by Andrew Gollon and John Golonik, owners of property in the town of Hull, who claimed that as a result of the building of the new dam and the consequent raising of the water in the river their lands had been flooded. They asked for an injunction to give relief from the flooding and relief from damage already alleged to have been done. Twenty or more other claims, filed by owners of property in Hull, will be decided by the outcome of the two cases already taken to court.

New Corporation Formed

That the injunction order will result in lowering the head of the water at the dam is unlikely as the Consolidated Water Power & Paper company and the Jackson Milling company have already devoted the water power rights, it was learned today, to a newly organized corporation, the Onondia Power company. The new concern has been organized as a public service corporation and as such will be able to condemn property where necessary. It is therefore probable that the Onondia Power company will proceed with court action to acquire ownership of the lands flooded by backwater from the dam.

List of Claimants

Those who have filed the most important claims: Martin Pionek, Andrew Zimlauer, Stanislaus Szewinski, Ed Patrick, John Rutta, August Walkush, John Golonik, Alex Shuda, Joseph Shuda, Nick Gollon, Andrew Gollon, Frank Gollon, Frank Remowski, Dominick Shuda, Frank Rycek, Teofil Filizkowski, Mary Cyzon, Felix Teizloff, Frank Filizkowski and Stanley Winkler.

The lands alleged to have been flooded include improved farms, hay meadows, pasture and heavy timber land.

Big Sum Involved

A total of approximately 7,500 acres involved, the total of the claims being more than $100,000.

EYES OF THE WORLD

Wonderful Production Coming to the Strand for Two Days the Present Week

Departing from the merely spectacular and concentrating its essence into a powerful love story, gorgeous California scenic settings and elaborate musical attributes, "The Eyes of the World," to play at the Strand on Wednesday and Thursday, offers something different in pictorial drama from the run of great film offerings put forward of late. Represented in this achievement are Harold Bell Wright, author of the famous story, which has had a sale of over two million copies in book form, and W. H. Clune, who was associated in the production of "The Lashman" ("The Birth of a Nation") and other large film ventures.

The noted author amplified the story for this production and personally assisted in the work of putting his characters on the screen. While "The Eyes of the World" is primarily a romance, it is melodramatic in the best sense, bristling with adventure, hazard and dramatic clash, as well as with charm. The cinema version is in nine acts, was seven months in making at an unlimited cost on the actual cost of the story in southern California.

The qualities that gave the book such phenomenal sale are intensified in the pictorial version, which has a wealth of gorgeous photographic settings. The presentation is a lavish one in every way. In numerous cities it has broken all theater records.

YOUNGSTERS HAVE SKATING

The ice skating season has opened early this year. The cold weather of the past week left about three inches of ice on the slough and on Saturday and Sunday the youngsters had a big time with their skates. The skating area on the slough extends a considerable distance east of the slough proper, the ice having formed at a time when the water, due to recent rains, was above the average height.

WOMEN PREY OF LONELINESS

London Writer Says That Is the Cause of Their Tireless and Ceaseless Toil.

Men are amazingly and amusingly ignorant with respect to the mysterious life led by their mothers, wives, daughters and aunts. For years at a time a man may go on blindly with his work and his play and remain in total ignorance about the activities of these inextinguishable beings. He is dimly and dubiously aware that they are not idle. In his peroxysms of intuition he guesses that his comfort and even his happiness in some fashion may depend upon their labors. But the greater part of his existence is passed in a sublime ignoring of all the immense miseries wrought by women every day of his life.

I have come to the conclusion that women are the loneliest of God's creatures, and that their loneliness is the great first cause of their tireless and ceaseless toil, James Douglas writes in London Opinion. Nearly every woman goes about with a lonely look on her face and the older she grows the lonelier she looks. There are very few lonely men, for men are gregarious. They are also, upon the whole, less imaginative than women. They live more on the surface. They do not possess that quality of power of living a secret inner life of contemplation and broodingly retrospective passion. Men live in and for the hour; woman lives in and for the past and the future. They are at war with their environment. Like Nora in "The Doll's House," they are always waiting for the miracle to happen. One seldom sees the print of tragic intensity on a man's face. One seldom sees anything else on a woman's. It is this veiled tumult of the soul that drives women into frantic and feverish labors.

DREAM REVEALS CRIME.

A dream once played its part in a celebrated English criminal case—the "Red Barn Murder"—the memory of which is kept alive by the melodrama still played in country towns.

Mrs. Marten, the mother of Maria Marten, the victim, dreamed three successive nights that her daughter had been murdered and buried in the Red Barn. She insisted that the floor should be taken up.

This was done and the body of the missing girl was found, and constituted a link in the chain of circumstantial evidence on which the murderer, William Corder, was convicted and executed in August, 1828.

SENATE LEADERS SAY TREATY DEAD

Lodge Forces Through Reservations on Ten Clauses.

WORK UNDER CLOTURE RULE

Final Vote on the Pact May Be Reached Today—Both Sides Are Prepared for Deadlock or Compromise.

Washington, Nov. 17.—The senate completely defeated the administration forces and rushed through ten drastic reservations to the peace treaty, virtually completing the Lodge program.

This action was taken after the senate had voted a cloture on itself, shutting off debate. Republican and Democratic leaders worked together to invoke cloture, piling up a majority which far exceeded the two-thirds necessary for adoption. In the count of 78 to 16 the two parties contributed about evenly.

What Reservations Do.

The ten reservations adopted accomplish these things:

"Forbid the acceptance of any mandate by the United States without the consent of congress.

"Take away from the League of Nations all jurisdiction over American domestic affairs, such as immigration, the tariff, labor, boundaries, and consular traffic.

"Preserve the Monroe doctrine by denying presentation to the league of any question relating to the Monroe doctrine.

"Repudiate the Shantung settlement and reserve full liberty of action to the United States in any dispute which may arise between Japan and China under the terms of that settlement.

"Reserve to the United States senate the right to veto any appointment by the president or any American representative in the League of Nations.

"Prevent interference with American trade with Germany by the reparations commission, except by the approval of congress.

"Reserve to the United States the right to increase its armament at any time without the consent of the league in case of threatened invasion.

"Permit the United States to exercise its own discretion about boycotting the nationals of covenant breaking states residing within the United States.

"Safeguard the rights of American shareholders in German owned concerns in the United States during the war."

Means Death of Treaty?

The sweeping character of the action completed the defeat of the administration senators in their fight against reservations and, in the opinion of leaders on both sides, seals the doom of the treaty.

Senator Underwood of Alabama, slated as the next leader of the senate Democrats, said that not less than 30 Democrats would vote against ratification because of the reservations, and Senator Borah of Idaho, leader of the Republican irreconcilables, was confident there would be 15 to 18 Republican votes against ratification under all circumstances.

Senator Lodge was convinced that the treaty was dead. In the face of the repeated assertions of the Democratic leaders, Senator Lodge said he could no longer doubt they intended to vote against the Lodge ratification resolution and that the effect of their action meant nothing less than the death of the treaty.

The final vote on the Lodge ratifying resolution may be reached today. When it is defeated the Democrats hope to resurrect the treaty under a new form of parliamentary procedure and hold the pact in a deadlock until some of the "mild" reservationists are driven into a compromise.

PLACE STATUES AT GRAVES

People of Budapest Have Odd Methods of Perpetuating the Memory of the Dead.

While all civilized nations either bury their dead or place them in vaults or mausoleums, there is a curious custom carried out by the people of Budapest. This is found in the large cemetery in that city which is known as the Kerepesi Kozlmero, where nearly every family in Budapest buries its dead. It is very large and contains a number of handsome monuments, especially the one to Kossuth, who is known as the George Washington of Hungary.

The visitor to that city of the dead will find at the grave a photograph, painting or statue of the person who is buried beneath each stone, an exchange states. When the family is wealthy there is the bust or a recumbent figure of the dead man or woman made from his or her latest picture, while beside it sits or stands the statue of the nearest living relative, man or woman, carved from life.

In some instances the figures of several living members of a family sit beside the grave of a parent. But perhaps the most interesting of all are pictures embedded in the gravestones covered with glass and thus protected from the weather.

Still another peculiarity is the bronze or iron lamp posts on the graves and the huge silver balls set up on many. The latter are like the colored glass balls used upon our Christmas trees, except they are always silvered and much larger. There seems to be no way of lighting the lamps, and the only inference is that they are used to light the dead to heaven or where candles may be placed when relatives or friends are offering prayers for the dead.

Police Say Four Men Started Shooting When Proprietor of Store in Racine Refused to Pay Debt—Two Wounded.

Racine, Nov. 17.—Two men were killed and two more fatally injured when seven men, all Italians, indulged in battle with shotguns and automatic pistols in a fruit store here. Tom Tedesco, thirty-seven years old, and an unidentified man were killed. John Bahario and Baptiste Mangiavallano are probably fatally hurt. The latter is a brother of the proprietor of the store. According to Baptiste, his brother and Tedesco were standing near the store entrance when four men approached and opened fire without warning. One of the four was killed, the other three escaping, although they are believed to have been wounded. According to the police, Sam Mangiavallano, proprietor of the store, owed a sum of money to an Italian and it is believed that the men had called for this money, starting shooting when they were refused. The shots were heard by members of No. 20 fire company, 100 feet distant. As the firemen ran toward the scene they saw three men flee from the store and disappear to the north in the yard of the Garfield school.

Air Liner Back in Milwaukee.

Milwaukee, Nov. 17.—That sight-seeing tours of the future will be made in giant air liners was the prophecy of passengers who reached Milwaukee in A. W. Lawson's 26-passenger plane. The Lawson liner left Ashburn field, Chicago, on the last leg of its 3,000-mile demonstration tour, in which it visited New York, Washington and intermediate cities. With 15 people aboard, including four women, the ship climbed to a height of half a mile over the western portion of Chicago and headed north into the teeth of a 30-mile-an-hour wind. At least half a dozen of the passengers were on their first flight. Two of them, Mrs. Harry Cameron of Philadelphia and Mrs. Beryl Whitney of Chicago, wrote their wills at Ashburn field before leaving. But when the five-ton biplane left the ground after its first rush across the flying field even the skeptics in the party were convinced that they were in for a good time. Mr. Lawson has announced that he has plans for a passenger liner which will have sleeping accommodations for 26 persons and which will do the night flying part of his projected transcontinental service. The new planes for this service will be fitted with special heating devices of his own invention. He has also designed mail and express planes. The Lawson liner has been away from Milwaukee about two months, during which time it has never been under cover. Mr. Lawson expects to fly back and forth between Milwaukee and Chicago during the winter.

Military Funeral for Soldiers.

Racine, Nov. 17.—Plans are being made for a public funeral for the body of Lieut. Edmund R. Collins, who was killed on the Archangel front and which arrived in New York Wednesday night. It is expected that the body will arrive in Racine today and the funeral services will be held Tuesday at St. Patrick's Catholic church. Acting Mayor Polker will issue a proclamation urging a general suspension of business during the afternoon of the funeral. Arrangements for the funeral are in the hands of the Racine post of the American Legion. The body of Frank Sawickis, which also arrived in New York, will not be brought to Racine for burial, but will be shipped to Port Washington.

Hand Severed by Saw.

Eau Claire, Nov. 17.—Because no interurbans were running so he could reach Eau Claire for his daily work in a local shoe factory, Vac Vleck, aged forty-six, determined to stay at home for the day and saw wood. He secured a neighbor's power saw, but had not been working 15 minutes when he accidentally pushed his right wrist up against the saw and in an instant his hand was lying on the ground completely severed.

They Wouldn't Suit Her.

Mary Pickford was talking about the new French fashions.

"The French," she said, "are trying to bring the long skirt back again."

She frowned slightly. Then, as she glanced down at her little shoe, her brow cleared.

"There's no doubt," she said, "that long skirts would suit some girls down to the ground."

"Key Money."

In many districts of England, and particularly in Yorkshire, where the dearth of houses is acute, the practice of paying "key money" is growing. So keen are prospective tenants to get into a house directly it is vacant that as much as $50 to $100 is offered to the occupier for the key, this transaction generally carrying with it the understanding that the landlord will accept the succeeding tenant.

COMBAT WITH THEIR HEADS

Giraffes Have Distinctly Peculiar Method of Settling Differences That Arise Among Themselves.

While the giraffe can hardly be classed among the fierce duelists of the animal world, yet animals of this species are known to have their combats like their more ferocious fellows. The long-necked beast has an original and curious method of fighting. It has neither claws nor beak nor sharp teeth with which to defend or attack, so when it is out of temper with one of its kind it does not fly in the face of Providence by trying to disembowel its adversary, as a rhinoceros might, or tear it, as a tiger would. On the contrary, the giraffe, knowing that it has been provided by nature with a long and pliable neck, terminating in a very solid head, uses the upper part of itself like a flail, and, swinging its neck around and around in a way that does immense credit to its organization, brings its head down at each swing with a thump on its antagonist.

The other combatant uses precisely the same tactics, and the two animals, planting themselves as firmly as possible by stretching out on all four legs to the utmost, stand opposite to each other hammering away with their heads until one or the other has had enough.

The head of the giraffe is furnished with two stumpy, hornlike processes, so that the animals when at this hammer-and-tongs mode of warfare, remind the spectator somewhat of two ancient warriors thumping each other with the spiked balls they used to carry for that purpose at the end of a chain.—New York Herald.

Two Fatalities.

The freight train caused the explosion by hitting a truck loaded with acetylene tanks. The truck and driver was killed.—Buffalo News.

WROTE OF LIFE AT HARVARD

Author Now Forgotten Conceded to Have Been the First to Depict Undergraduate Days.

Harvard graduates, the world over, have long believed that the earliest pictorial record of undergraduate life at the oldest college in the United States was made when F. G. Attwood drew his pictures of college life for the first volume of the Harvard Lampoon. The Lampoon was the forerunner of humorous journalism in America; Attwood became a famous humorist; and his "Manners & Customs of the Harvard Student" was established as a classic. The discovery of a time-stained book in a New England farmhouse reveals an earlier draftsman, whose "College Scenes" antedate "The Harvard Student" by about a quarter of a century, but were soon generally forgotten. Of N. Hayward, the artist, no record remains but the bare fact that he was then in college. The discoverer, however, had a rare afternoon when he found the volume in a dusty chest, where it had been packed away with a lot of contemporary textbooks and an old Harvard diploma.—Christian Science Monitor.

Historic Strasburg.

In establishing the administration of the restored provinces of Alsace-Lorraine in the city of Strasburg, the people of France have regained a richly historic ground, says the Boston Transcript. Its cathedral, whose building engaged the services of famous architects and decorators for the period of four centuries before reaching the completion in which it stands today, is one of the marvels of the world. Its great university has a library of a million volumes and before the war its students numbered more than 2,000.

Improved Oil-Burner.

A new oil-burner for the kitchen stove, announced from Cairo, Egypt, is attachable by a special flange to the grate door, and it neither requires alteration of the solid fuel stove nor prevents the use of solid fuel. The nozzle projects about an inch into the grate, the oil tank being mounted on a suitable rack outside the stove. A small fire heats the fuel oil to about 150 degrees Fahrenheit, and as the oil passes from the nozzle, a jet of compressed air or steam converts it into a spray that burns with a continuous smokeless and odorless flame. In Cairo, it is noted, compressed air is supplied in pipes to houses.

ASKED TO ATTEND PUBLIC MEMORIAL

Rev. John Landowski Invited by Mayor of Detroit to Speak at Services for Soldiers Who Died From Friday's Daily.

UNABLE TO ACCEPT INVITATION

Father Landowski Served With Men in Russia with American Expeditionary Forces

Rev. John Landowski, assistant to Rev. S. A. Elbert, pastor of St. Peter's church of Stevens Point, has been invited by Mayor Cenzens of Detroit, Mich., to deliver an address at the public memorial services in tribute to the Michigan members of the North Russia Expeditionary Forces who died while overseas. The services will be held at Detroit Sunday, but Father Landowski, much as he would like to go, will be unable to be present.

Served as Chaplain

Father Landowski volunteered his services as chaplain in the United States army soon after this country entered the war and was commissioned a first lieutenant. He was the first Polish priest to be made a chaplain in the American army. After being commissioned he was assigned to Camp Custer, Mich., and finally was sent to Russia with the 339th Infantry, which served in the Archangel region. Many of the soldiers of the American force in Russia who died while overseas were intimate friends of Father Landowski, who officiated at burial services for them in that far-off land. Before the force was recalled last spring, however, arrangements were made to bring the bodies back to America for final interment. Among the dead whom Father Landowski buried were residents of Milwaukee, Marshfield, Mosinee, Rio and Racine.

Can't Leave Parish

Inability of Father Landowski to leave St. Peter's parish at this time makes it impossible for him to go to Detroit. Father Elbert, pastor of the church, is now at Buffalo, attending a convention of representative Polish citizens, and will not be back for another week. Attempts to engage other priests of the diocese to take Father Landowski's place for a brief period were unsuccessful, many other Polish priests of the state being also at Buffalo.

Will Honor Buddies' Memory

A United Press dispatch to the Journal today said: Former members of the North Russia Expeditionary Forces of Michigan today prepared to meet the bodies of their "buddies" who "went west" when they arrive here early Sunday.

ROTARY CLUB ASKS FOR COUNTY AGENT

Matter to Come Up Tuesday with Other Subjects Postponed Until That Day by County Board

A petition from the Stevens Point Rotary club, signed by A. H. Sikes, president, and L. J. Seeger, secretary, asking for the appointment of a county agricultural agent, was on Thursday received by the county board. Consideration of it was laid over until Tuesday.

On the same day the request of the Children's Home-finding society for aid and the report of the county highway committee on a plan for a county road system will come up.

Dr. G. E. Dusenberry of Amherst was unanimously re-elected county physician at the county farm. Dell King was re-elected court house janitor.

The board decided to visit the county farm Monday.

Additional shelving was ordered for the register of dead's office. The vault is becoming crowded and by making the shelves higher it will be possible to care for the extra books needed in the next five years.

The report of Frank H. Timm, clerk of the circuit court, showed that in the past year he paid out officers' and court certificates of $972.90, jurors' certificates of $1,755.24, and witnesses' fees of $55.62, making a total of $2,883.76. Total fines and costs collected by the clerk in the past year amounted to $492.71.

Report of the soldiers' relief commission showed very little money expended in the past year. On November 1, 1918, there was on hand $800 and the board then appropriated $1,000. Within the year $270 was spent for relief, and $680 transferred to the general fund, leaving a balance on hand November 1, 1919, of $850. The report was signed by H. H. Hoffman, chairman, S. Whitaker, secretary, and George H. Altenburg, treasurer.

Following adjournment of the board Thursday the equalization committee organized with V. P. Atwell, chairman, presiding.

PEDDLER IS FINED

Man Who Visited Stevens Point Gets in Trouble at Grand Rapids

"Moosa Mouhoud, an Assyrian who started out to peddle his wares in Grand Rapids, came to a rather abrupt ending of his business ventures when he was arrested, fined $10 and costs in Judge Getts' court and chased by the police," says the Grand Rapids Leader.

"Mouhoud, who sells laces, table linen and other wares, went to the B. G. Eggert home on Fourth street and when Miss Zimmerman, who is employed there, opened the door he forced his way in and tried to make her buy goods. He became abusive and rough. Mrs. Eggert was called on the phone and arrived in time to oust him. She later telephoned the police and an officer picked him up on Third street."

A peddler answering the description of the one who visited Grand Rapids, was in Stevens Point a few days ago and while here called at numerous homes offering laces and linens for sale.

PIONEER OF PLOVER DIES UNEXPECTEDLY

George Gilman, Old Resident of County, Gets Sudden Summons At Home Thursday Evening

George Gilman, one of Plover's old and well known residents, died at his home there very unexpectedly at 10 o'clock Thursday evening.

Mr. Gilman had not been ill and his death came almost without warning. After eating a hearty supper Thursday evening he went outside to assist the driver of an automobile whose machine had become mired in the road near the Gilman home. After that he attended to some chores and then returned to the house. When he came in he complained to his wife of pains in his stomach and asked for a home remedy. While Mrs. Gilman was preparing some peppermint for him he breathed his last. Heart failure was evidently the cause of death.

Mr. Gilman was born in New York state and was 72 years of age. He came to Plover in young manhood and had ever since resided in that town. He is survived by his widow and the following children: Frank Gilman, Iola, Jay Gilman, at home; Mrs. Harold King, Stevens Point; Bert Gilman, Plover, and Mrs. George Trassette, and Mrs. John McGowan, Forest Grove, Oregon. He also leaves two brothers, William Gilman of Plover and John Gilman of Arizona, and two sisters, Mrs. Marion Barker and Mrs. Al Langston of Plover.

The funeral was held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family home in the town of Plover. Rev. G. M. Calhoun of the St. Paul's M. E. church of this city officiated, burial following in the Merrill cemetery.

CONDITION IMPROVES

Joseph Buskey Still A Patient At Oshkosh Hospital

Joseph Buskey of this city, who was severely injured in a hunting accident while shooting ducks at Fremont in company with George Allen last week, will remain a patient at St. Mary's hospital, Oshkosh, for some time, although he is reported to be making satisfactory progress.

When the canoe which the two local hunters were occupying at Fremont tipped over, a shotgun was accidentally discharged, the shot entering Mr. Buskey's left arm above the elbow, causing severe wounds and shattering the bone. Amputation of the arm was not found necessary and he will regain at least a partial use of it.

DREAMS BROTHER DIES FINDS DREAM IS TRUE

While working in the woods near Rhineland, Herman Hohenfeldt had a dream that his brother, Paul, had died in Appleton. It was so vivid and stayed on his mind to such an extent that he packed up his possessions and went to Appleton to learn that his brother had been buried the day before. All efforts of friends to locate him prior to the funeral had been unsuccessful.

It consisted of Hallowe'en songs, drills and exercises and various selections of school work. Refreshments were served by the two youngest members of the school, Raymond Loftis and Grace Boushley.

Derailement of two cars of south-bound freight No. 28 at Medford at 1 p. m. Wednesday delayed Soo line passengers Nos. 11 and 12. The wrecker from this city was called to the scene. No person was injured. Train No. 12, due here at 2:01, was seven hours late and northbound train No. 11 was held up one hour and 45 minutes.

SAYS STRIKE NOT ENDED DENIES FUNDS ARE SHORT

Denying the rumors that funds collected for the strikers at Port Edwards were misappropriated and that some were missing, J. T. Mr. Carey stated picketing would continue.

COMMISSION ISSEUS WARNING TO HUNTERS

Nimrods Who Go After Deer Are Cautioned to Exercise Care Lest There Be a Toll of Human Lives

The Wisconsin Conservation commission has issued the following warning to hunters who are going into the woods to hunt deer:

"With the approach of the deer season, the apprehension of the State Conservation commission grows apace. As already pointed out, the present season bids fair to overshadow and outstrip anything before recorded. In its probable effect on the Wisconsin deer herd, but the menace to the deer is as nothing compared to the hazard of human life, inherent in the threatened congestion of hunters in the northern counties of the state. The number of deer tags issued this season has reached the enormous total of approximately 75,000 as against an average of about 35,000 in prior years. The impending congestion is materially augmented by the fact that the open territory was reduced by the closing of Jackson, Marathon and Trempealeau counties. So it must be evident to the hunter in every angle of the woods. There will be more hunters than deer in the timber."

"The commission therefore deems it an imperative duty, officially and in their individual capacity, to urge upon the sportsmen the greatest caution in the use of the rifle. Any reckless discharge of their powerful weapons at anything that moves must be considered nothing short of deliberate crime. Far from its being the slogan of a real 'crack shot' we believe no true sportsman (and we have reason to know and respect the sportsmen of Wisconsin) will be guilty of it. We ask the hunters' co-operation, as man to man, to spread this solemn word of warning. As a conservation measure it is our policy to urge the sparing of the doe and fawns; at least the fawns. But in this present appeal to sporting manhood, frankly shoot does and fawns if you must, slaughter everything the law allows—but make well this—DO NOT FAIL TO LOOK BEFORE YOU SHOOT. Do not enter the woods with the impression that the one buck law is dead and shoot at anything that you see that looks like a deer. Let every hunter stay his deadly bullet until he knows beyond a doubt that he is shooting at a deer, and that his mark is not a human being."

WOULD REDUCE RATES

Grand Rapids Commercial Club Begins Investigation

Several members of the Grand Rapids Commercial club, at a meeting held this week, alleged that water and electric power rates in Grand Rapids are higher than in many of the neighboring cities, citing Stevens Point, Appleton, Wausau and Rhineland as cities where rates are lower. The board of directors was made a committee to investigate and report back to the organization at the next meeting.

At the Milwaukee recruiting station of the navy, word has been received of the promotion of Ladislav Politowski, 405 Smith Place, Stevens Point, to commissary steward. Politowski is stationed on the U. S. S. Georgia, which, with the Virginia, New Jersey, Nebraska and Rhode Island, was completed in 1904.

THE PUBLIC HEALTH

BY DR. F. A. SOUTHWICK Health Officer

The health of any community is its greatest asset. Human beings generally start out in good health, but various unfavorable conditions reduce it more or less low. The recent war brought out forcibly the fact that our general health level has fallen much below what it ought to be. The first draft registered about 10,000,000 men. Of these 5,720,000 were examined by the local draft boards. Out of this number about 1,000,000 were sent to the mobilization camps and there re-examined. The results of the examination are recorded in a bulletin sent out by the surgeon general's office and are interesting and somewhat surprising.

One of the striking things shown is going among men from the regions of the great lakes and the northwest.

Another was the predominance of flat-foot, it occurring nearly eight times as frequently as any other defect. Flat-foot was found less frequently in the southerners than in the northerners, which was probably due to more barefootedness being indulged in by the southerners, permitting better development and greater strength of the foot.

Eye, ear and hernia defects were found more frequently in the city recruits. Men from the cities showed 30 per cent more defective vision than men from the country, and this defect was in direct ratio to the size of the city.

On the other hand heart disease was more common in the country and in the city and was found inversely proportionate to the density of the population.

Veneral diseases were found predominant in the southern states, while the northwest had a much lower percentage than any other section of the country.

Underweight was found most frequently in the west and defective physical development in the east.

Various vices were common in Minnesota and Wisconsin and the extreme mountainous regions of the northwest.

The total number of defects found in city recruits was 38.3 in each hundred and in the country recruits 33.3 per hundred and were classified as follows:

Mechanical defects, including flat-foot, 22 per cent.
Imperfections of sense organs, 15 per cent.

Defects in the cardio-vascular system, 13 per cent.

Nervous and mental troubles, 12 per cent.

Tuberculosis and veneral diseases, 10 per cent.

Developmental defects, 8 per cent.

Imperfections of teeth, 6 per cent.

Until this examination the people of the United States believed we were 90 per cent healthy; now we know that even the select class was more than 30 per cent defective.

Starting out healthy, as the most of those did who survived until the draft age of 21 years, and developing one third during the period of childhood and adolescence would suggest something radically wrong in our method of living. It was not work that produced these defects, that is sure.

The boys who lived in the camps came back showing plainly that living in the open with fresh air, regular hours of sleep, plain food and an abundance of work and exercise was good for them. If it was good for them in the camps it should be good for them and all of us at home.

I expect the welfare workers are studying these reports and will soon be making recommendations, and I am sure that well up in the front of the list will be the following:

Removal of physical defects in early life.

Extended public school instruction in hygiene and sanitary living.

Physical training in the schools.

A community house in every city with public gymnasium where physical training can be continued into adult life.

OFFERS TO PAY AGENT'S WAGES

J. W. Dunegan Notifies the County Board that He Will Raise Money Among City Men and Farmers for It

BANKERS DINE SUPERVISORS

All Boast for County Road System but There is a Division on County Agent

At the banquet given by the County Bankers' association to the county board at the Public Library Thursday evening, J. W. Dunegan, speaking for a county agent, offered to raise among business men and farmers the entire $1,000 asked of the county for the support of a county agent and to turn the money over to the county treasurer, permitting the county to have an agricultural agent without paying a dollar. In such case the county board would merely appropriate for an agent the money Mr. Dunegan would turn over.

However, the state would add $1,600. Forty-five counties. Portage among them, are on the list for $1,600 of state aid to pay the expenses of county agents. Notice has been received from the state that unless the county board employs an agent this fall it is quite probable that Portage county will be taken off the list to give place to a county willing to do its part. Once taken off, it may not be put back again for years. That situation impelled Mr. Dunegan, in behalf of the bankers, farmers and others interested, to offer to pay the entire county share.

Farmers Divided
Expressions asked by President W. F. Collins from the supervisors present at the dinner elicited difference of opinion. Some members were ready to vote for a county agent and pay him. Others were personally favorable but bound by instructions of their towns to vote against such an officer. Others did not want an agent on any terms. Supervisor Ben Halverson of New Hope, P. B. Dent of Belmont, Carl Betker of Alban and Charles Martin of Almond said that J. M. Coyner's work had been unsatisfactory, and the farmers had become prejudiced against the whole proposition. Mr. Halverson said Coyner had been "a flat failure." Mr. Martin said that there was an opinion in his town that Coyner had played favorites. When the county agent visited in Almond, he said, he spent most of his time on the farm of Harold Frost. It was natural that he should visit Mr. Frost, who was an old friend, but he overdid it in the opinion of the Almond chairman. Mr. Dent said that Coyner was doubtless well informed in stock, but was not well posted in farming and had given the farmers some pretty expensive advice.

Mr. Dunegan, while defending Mr. Coyner and quoting the opinion of other farmers to show that he had done excellent work, particularly with stock, said Coyner was not involved in the present discussion at all. He would not return here, and the question was on the opinion of some other county agent, one the farmers would want. He saw no objection except the financial one which would be removed by the payment of the county appropriation by private subscription.

No Whippersnapper Wanted
G. L. Park, chairman of the board, said there was another objection. "Middle-aged farmers with long experience do not want some boy whippersnapper from the university telling them what to do," he said.

"Get an older man then," said Mr. Dunegan, and H. H. Pagel said: "It is the same in every line of business. A lot of the old millers did not want to use new milling machines. They said they would not work. But they had to come to it."

Walter Campbell of Carleton and Michael Loftis of Buena Vista said they were bound by instruction of their towns to vote against an agent to be hired at county expense. They might regard it differently were the county to pay nothing.

The subject finally went over to some regular session of the county board.

All For Good Roads
Good roads speeches were made by President Collins and F. B. Dent of the county highway committee. Mr. Dent explained the county highway system in a most thorough manner and seemed to leave no loophole through which to attack it.

Several new roads have been added since the list was published in the Journal and some were also omitted from that list. A road from Coddington to Plover has been put in, and the list includes a road from Bancroft to Plainfield and another road across New Hope. Also Amherst is to be connected with the Rosholt road without going to Amherst Junction, and the Nelsonville road is to connect with Road 18 a little east of Custer, making a direct route from Stevens Point to Nelsonville and Iola.

It has been found possible to extend the concrete on Road 18 to a point 12 miles east of the city. At first it was planned to run it only to Stockton station.

"Every town gets what it is paying for," said Chairman Ben Halverson, "except the city. We are spending the city's money on the roads leading into the city. We think that will benefit the city, but it is also benefiting the towns where the concrete is laid, and all the rest of the county for that matter."

The evening closed with a story-telling contest in which the chairman had the competition of P. J. Jacobs and J. W. Dunegan. It was a most entertaining evening and the 17 supervisors who attended expressed their thanks to the bankers for it.

SOLDIERS MAY RENEW WAR RISK INSURANCE

Federal Bureau Explains New Rulings Making It Possible for Lapsed Policies To Be Reinstated

A series of decisions issued by the director of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance with the approval of the secretary of the treasury provides more liberal conditions for reinstatement of lapsed or canceled insurance. The provisions of treasury decision No. 47, allowing 18 months from the date of discharge for the reinstatement upon payment of only two months' premiums on the amount of insurance to be reinstated, are retained. That decision is liberalized, however, by a new provision that men out of the service are permitted to reinstate by merely paying the two months' premiums without making a statement as to health at any time within three calendar months following the month of discharge.

After the three months following the date of discharge have elapsed, a statement from the applicant to the effect that he is in as good health as at the date of discharge or at the expiration of the grace period, whichever is the later date, will be required together with a written application for reinstatement and the tender of two months' premiums on the amount of insurance he wishes to reinstate.

In order to give all former service men whose insurance has lapsed or been canceled a fair chance to reinstate their insurance, including men who have been out of the service 18 months or more and who are therefore barred from reinstatement under the former ruling, a special blanket ruling is made which allows all ex-service men to reinstate their insurance before December 31, 1919, provided that each applicant is in as good health as at date of discharge or at expiration of the grace period, whichever is the later date, and so states in his application. Of course it is necessary that he tender the two months' premiums on the amount of insurance he wishes to reinstate.

Service men who reinstated their insurance by payment of all back premiums prior to July 25, 1919, when the decision requiring payment of only two months' premiums went into effect, upon written application to the bureau may have any premiums paid in excess of two applied toward the payment of future premiums. For example, if after a policy had lapsed for six months, a man reinstated and paid six months' premiums instead of two, he may secure credit for four months' premiums.

The provisions for reinstatement do not protect a man until he actually reinstates. If he waits he may not be in as good health as he was at the time of discharge and consequently may not be able to secure reinstatement.

OTHER COUNTIES TAKE ACTION

Millions of Dollars Involved in Contemplated Projects Throughout State

Marathon county proposes to float a bond issue of $4,250,000 for the building of permanent highways in that county.

The Marathon county board last week passed a resolution submitting the question to the voters of the county at a special election to be held on December 18.

Provisions of Resolution
The resolution provides for the issuance of the bonds as needed, bearing interest at the rate of five percent, semi-annually, the principal to mature in 20 years. The type of construction specified is cement concrete or concrete base with approved top. Among the appropriations provided for are the following for concrete construction:

Fifteen miles on Wausau-Stevens Point trunk highway No. 10, $350,000.

Eleven miles on Wausau-Merrill trunk highway No. 10, $275,000.

Fifteen miles on Wausau-Birnwood trunk highway No. 16, $375,000.

Forty miles on Colby-Wausau trunk highway No. 16, $1,000,000.

Thirteen miles on Athens-Wausau road, $325,000.

Five miles on Schofield-Berent road, $125,000.

It is expected that the bond issue, if authorized, will build about 156 miles of concrete highways and nearly 100 miles of gravel roads.

The county board of Marathon county adjourned on Saturday, to reconvene on January 13, 1920.

AMHERST RESIDENT CALLED BY DEATH

Mrs. G. E. Dusenbury and John Casbeer, Prominent in Amherst and Vicinity, Answer Final Summons

Amherst, November 18—Universal sorrow prevailed here last Thursday when it was learned that our highly esteemed neighbor and friend, Mrs. G. E. Dusenbury, had passed away at St. Agnes' hospital at Fond du Lac at 9 a. m., where she had undergone an operation late Wednesday evening. Dr. and Mrs. Dusenbury left for the hospital Wednesday forenoon and very few if any of her friends knew of her illness. The report of her death the following day could scarcely be credited. For the past two months Mrs. Dusenbury's husband was aware of her serious condition, but to the general public her demise came as a shock.

The body arrived here Friday noon accompanied by the husband, Dr. G. E. Dusenbury, Fred Hunt of Milwaukee, a nephew of the deceased, and Mrs. L. J. Carey, who had been called to Fond du Lac by the doctor Thursday morning.

Josephine Salisbury was the daughter of Barton and Armina Salisbury, who were pioneer residents of Wisconsin. Barton Salisbury was the founder of the villages of Barton and Newburg in Washington county. Mrs. Dusenbury was born in Newburg February 24, 1849. She received her education in the schools of Washington county and Port Atkinson, Wis. After teaching school in West Bend for several years she was married to Dr. George E. Dusenbury September 12, 1876. For eight years they lived at Greenbush, Sheboygan county, and in 1884 they came to Amherst where they had since resided.

There is scarcely an inhabitant in the village and surrounding country that the doctor has not administered to in a professional way and it is little wonder that the untimely death of his loving wife is mourned by everyone. The funeral will be held from the home on Wilson street Monday at 2 p. m., Rev. C. E. Coon of the M. E. church officiating. Interment will follow in Greenwood cemetery.

Mrs. Dusenbury is survived by her husband. There were no children. One sister, Mrs. Hunt, passed away six years ago in Milwaukee.

Civil War Veteran Dies
The rapidly thinning ranks of Am-herst's pioneer residents suffered another loss last week in the death of John Casbeer, who passed away at his home a mile from the village Friday evening at 9 o'clock. Mr. Casbeer had been ill and confined to his bed over seven months, but the past two years he had not been able to leave his home.

John Casbeer was born in New York state May 16, 1835, and was therefore 84 years and six months of age. At the age of 18 years he came to Wisconsin and lived for several years in Plover, where he attended school. He worked several years in the pinery near Wausau and running logs down the Wisconsin river. When the Civil war broke out he enlisted in Company A, 18th Regiment of Wisconsin Volunteers, serving throughout the war, or from August 5, 1861, to September 5, 1865.

On December 25, 1861, he was married to Miss Eliza Diver, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Rierson, which is now the John Van Skiver home, near town. To them five children were born. Two sons, George and William, died in infancy. Those who survive beside the widow are Mrs. Oressa Barden, who has lived at home since Mr. Casbeer was forced to give up his farm duties. Mrs. Emily Green of Nelsonville and Mrs. Mary Packard of Big Falls, Waukegan county. Mrs. Bertha Packard, a granddaughter, has also been brought up by Mr. and Mrs. Casbeer since infancy. Mr. Casbeer is also survived by one brother, Daniel Casbeer, who resides in Pennsylvania.

Funeral services will be held from the home of the deceased this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mr. Casbeer was an honored member of the M. E. church and the G. A. R. and was a highly respected citizen and neighbor. The family have the sympathy of the community in the loss of a loving husband and father.

INCREASE OFFERED RAILROAD WORKERS

Leaders Representing Enginemen and Trainmen Receive Proposal for Raise Aggregating $36,000,000

Washington, Nov. 17.—The railroad administration offered the railroad brotherhood chieftains representing enginemen and trainmen a compromise increase of wages for their men aggregating $36,000,000 a year.

The brotherhood, it was announced, have taken the matter under advisement, and further conferences with Director General Hines will be held this week.

"The railroad administration," Mr. Hines said, "in discharging its responsibility to make readjustments necessary to avoid unjust inequalities in the compensation of different classes of railroad employees, has proposed to the four brotherhoods representing the trainmen and enginemen that, in order to give an additional measure of compensation to the train service employees in the slow freight service time and one-half will be paid for time required to make runs in excess of what would be required if an average speed of 12½ miles an hour were maintained; provided, however, that all arbitrations and special allowances now paid in various forms of freight train service are entirely eliminated for the railroads as a whole."

"The proposal thus made, which bears on the most important matter under consideration, has been taken under advisement by those representatives with a view to further discussion."

GAVE UP LIFE IN SIBERIA

Among the American soldiers who gave up their lives in far off Siberia was Sergt. Arthur Christianson of City Point, whose body was brought back last week and buried with full military honors. Arthur will be remembered by many Stevens Point people as a former employee at The Gazette office when it was located in the Green Bros. building. He was a very agreeable young man and was well liked by all who knew him.

SEE WASHINGTON FROM AIRPLANE

Three Stevens Point Girls Fly With Lieutenant Paul F. Collins

Over the National Capital

THEY ENJOYED EXPERIENCE

Did Tail Spins, Nose Dives and Side Loops While Going at Rapid Rate of Speed

Three Stevens Point young ladies, engaged in government work at Washington, D. C., had the novel experience last Sunday of seeing the capital city from an airplane piloted by a Stevens Point army officer, Lieut. Paul F. Collins. The Misses Florence Polebitski, Evelyn Koshnick and Violet Fisher were the passengers who accompanied Lieutenant Collins on the air voyage.

And They Liked It

"We flew over Washington for nearly one-half hour and at one time were up 2,000 feet," said Miss Fisher in a letter to a local friend. "Although it seemed the plane was barely moving, still they tell us we were going one hundred miles an hour. These are some of the stunts which we enjoyed so much: tail spin, barrel roll, nose dive, side loop and reinversement."

The plane used by Lieutenant Collins is what is known as a Curtiss Oriole.

WOULD DISMISS TEACHERS FOR BOLSHEVIST LEANINGS

New York, November 17—Removal of six women, public school teachers, for alleged membership in the communist party is being sought today by William Ettinger, city school superintendent. The charges against the teachers were based on papers seized in recent raids. Three of the teachers are said to have confessed affiliation with the Bolsheviks and their belief in the communist manifesto which City Magistrate McAdoo declared constituted criminal anarchy. The other three will be examined today.

TO MEET IN MARCH

Marshfield has been chosen as the place for the next annual meeting of the Central Wisconsin Grade Voters' association, which is to be held on the first Tuesday in March. Dr. W. R. Swan of Stevens Point is secretary-treasurer of the association.

CONSERVATIVE CANDIDATES VICTORIOUS IN ITALY

Rome, November 16—Conservative candidates apparently had succeeded generally in overcoming the threatened socialist sweep in today's parliamentary elections. Candidates of the Catholic parties seem to have scored heavily. Although violence and rioting had marked the campaign throughout the entire kingdom, election day passed quietly, according to reports reaching here.

ZERO

Zero weather ought never to bother a battery.

It won't either, unless you FORGET, and let the charge run too low.

Charge keeps any battery out of the first danger zone, and the more charge the better until you come up to the 1.285 mark. Then you'll be protected against anything down to 20 below.

The main thing is to take a hydrometer test every week, to make sure that your charge is up to what it should be. If in doubt, ask us.
